DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1 and 3-13 are presented for reconsideration on the merits.

The amendment filed March 1, 2004, has been received and entered.

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Response to Amendment

Claims 1 and 3-7 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Buck in view of Robson, Nanba et al, Kubota, and Chang cited of record in last office action of September 2, 2003, note pages 2-4.

Applicant's arguments filed March 1, 2004, have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The argument that Nanba neither teaches or suggests a "second liquid at an alkaline pH: is noted. However, Nanba et al teach at col. 9, lines 62-65, that cells are suspended in an aqueous solution and then adjusting pH with ammonia in water (i.e. second solution or liquid) the cells are sonicated. Applicants reference to col. 2, lines 52-64 are noted but Applicants are asked to refer to col. 9, lines 62-65 wherein support for a second solution may be found. Thus, this argument is not deemed persuasive.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Response to Amendment

Claim 8 remains rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kubota in light of Chang.

Applicant's arguments filed March 1, 2004, have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. This rejection is not a combination of references, the rejection herein relies solely upon Kubota for anticiaption, however, Chang merely provides evidence for the intrinsic nature of a surfactant. Hence that the property of reducing surface tension is inherent to the surfactant. Therefore, the argument is not deemed persuasive.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Response to Amendment

Claims 8-13 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Buck in view of Kubota et al, Chang, Robson et al, Nanba et al, all discussed in the last Office action of September 2, 2003, note pages 6-7.

Applicant's arguments filed March 1, 2004, have been fully considered but they are not persuasive for those reasons discussed supra and for those reasons of record. Therefore, the arguments are not deemed persuasive.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of
